Having had careers in fine woodworking and design engineering, Charles Waugh turned his interests to portraiture in 2003. Since then he has become one of the most sought after portraitists in Portland, having created portraits for a veritable Who's Who of Portland. As a specialist in wall portraiture, Charles designs each portrait with his clients, deciding together on all aspects of the portrait: colors, location, sizing, clothing, wood, etc. This collaborative-design approach assures that the final portraits will complement and enhance the room in which they are hung. A portrait planning session at Charles' studio is included with this certificate. His sumptuous studio is located in the Clackamas/Milwaukie area and is equipped with a commercial espresso machine (so don't even think of going to Starbucks first!).

274 Luminous Lumos

- Lumos Wine Company 2 night stay for 2 people (Wren, OR).

The little Lumos Wine Co. tasting room cabin was built in 1938 as one of the original guest cabins for the H bar H Dude Ranch. The ranch flourished in the 1940's on what is now the 100 acre Crisp family farm. Dai and PK spent the better part of the year resurrecting the little cabin to be the tasting room and guest house overlooking the vineyard complete with a queen size futon bed, indoor plumbing with shower, wood stove, minimalist kitchen, huge deck, peaceful solitude and a killer view. Wren is just 16 miles west of Corvallis and 40 miles east of the coast. Upon arrival, you will receive a bottle of 2006 Temperance Hill Vineyard Pinot Noir to be enjoyed during your stay at the cabin.

283 Charles Fine Art

- Charles Fine Art Portraits $1000 Gift Certificate ($650 portrait credit {equivalent to an 11"x14" Charles Fine Art Portrait} and $350 In-studio portrait session; limit 1 per bidder/not transferable; valid until July 6, 2010).

Having had careers in fine woodworking and design engineering, Charles Waugh turned his interests to portraiture in 2003. Since then he has become one of the most sought after portraitists in Portland, having created portraits for a veritable Who's Who of Portland. As a specialist in wall portraiture, Charles designs each portrait with his clients, deciding together on all aspects of the portrait: colors, location, sizing, clothing, wood, etc. This collaborative-design approach assures that the final portraits will complement and enhance the room in which they are hung. A portrait planning session at Charles' studio is included with this certificate. His sumptuous studio is located in the Clackamas/Milwaukie area and is equipped with a commercial espresso machine (so don't even think of going to Starbucks first!).

287 Russo Art

- One 32" x 42" framed lithograph of an untitled painting by Michele Russo from the 1970's "mockeries and Ecstasies on a Chauvinist Theme" series.

Michele Russo (1909-2004) was a giant among Pacific Northwest painters. Russo had a lasting influence on the local arts community as an artist, a teacher and activist. His paintings and drawings were known for their playful color, whimsical figures and primitive shapes that were both easy to appreciate yet deeply meaningful. This lithograph exemplifies his style. Each lithograph measures 32" x 42" and is beautifully framed. Each lithograph is also embossed with a certifying stamp from the Laura Russo Gallery on behalf of the Michele Russo Estate.

Four prints are available at $1,200 each.

- 22" x 8" blown glass art piece "Marx Calix" by Tim Chilina.

Local artist Tim Chilina grew up in a sleepy suburb of Tacoma, Washington. After obtaining a B.S. in Chemistry from Oregon State University in 1991, he moved to Portland, Oregon, where he currently lives and works as an artist. He loves the Pacific Northwest, and though he has traveled to many places, he will always call it his home.

In describing his work, Tim states: "My experiences, peers, and my own aesthetic are the guides for my creative process. With relatively little formal education in the arts, I have relied on observation, experimentation, and persistence to acquire new skills and to facilitate the evolution of my work. A background in chemistry has proven invaluable in understanding and influencing the physical nature and behavior of glass."
